- ✓ FREE Wilderness badge Program- Animal Kingdom-A Self-guided missions that send you around the park collecting 30 sticker badges to place in your free Wilderness Explorer Field Guide you can pick up at any Wilderness lodge station. Fun for kids and educational.
- ✓ FREE Water- Don't use your snack credits on the meal plan for water, save that for something good like a rice crispy treat! Instead visit a kiosk that sell fountain beverages and ask for a cup of ice water. It's Free!
- ✓ FREE Transportation Cards- Fun for kids to collect thought out their vacat It gives the info about each form of transportation at the Walt Disney Resort. We had fun collecting these on our last trip as well. Again a friendly cast member informed us about them. Just ask any cast member working on the monorail, busses or boats. They all grab a stack for the day but once they are out they are out. We collected about 20 on our last visit.
- ✓ FREE- Meet and Great with Mickey and Gang 5x7 photo- If you are a Disney Visa card holder be sure to bring it to Epcot and get a free photo with Mickey and Gang. Stop by the photo store to pick up your free print.
- ✓ FREE-The Disney Wilderness Preserve- Many people don't know about this one. In fact I only found out about it recently and is on our bucket list for our next trip. Just 20 miles south of Walt Disney World is the beginning of the Everglades ecosystem an 11,500 acre Disney Wilderness Preserve owned by the Disney Company to help with conservation, protect and restore the wetlands. You can hike the 2-½ mile trail to check out native wildlife. Be sure to bring the necessary supplies like sunscreen and water to drink. It has limited hours open November –March and April-October so be sure check the website before going. Visit Disney Wilderness Preserve website.
- ✓ FREE-Disney Boardwalk- Free entertainment. I am always sad to hear people have never been to the Disney Boardwalk. It's one of our favorite resort areas. At night the boardwalk wakes up and lights up and there is free fun family entertainment throughout the night by traveling performers. For a small cost you can also rent a surrey bike, play boardwalk games and have a scoop of ice cream to finish out the night.
